

Thought-provoking questions to ask (and answer) about education.

Everyone comes to the table with different thoughts, experiences, and opinions regarding education. Learn more about the heart and mind of the person in front of you by asking some questions.

---

- How has the world changed since you went to school? How has the education system changed?
- Is the classroom adequately preparing our children for 21st century workplace? What are companies looking for?
- Do you think you learned more when you were in school, or after you left school? Why do you think this is?
- Who were your favorite teachers? Why? What is the role of a teacher? Are teachers necessary for learning?
- What is education for?
- What does an educated person look like?
- What do you most want for your children?
- How would you define "success" for your children?
- What do you think the most effective learning environment would be?
- Do you think that standardized exams are the most effective way to judge learning?
- What was your favorite part of your own education?